2009 Summit on Competitive Grants

Many municipalities and community organizations have expressed their interest in grant funding within the recently passed American Recover and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) and how the funding could impact them. As federal agencies move forward with implementing ARRA, it is important that Texas localities and community organizations are aware of available grant opportunities. This Summit will be an opportunity to hear directly from federal agencies on how to submit the best possible proposal for a competitive federal grant.
